

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION ANNUAL CITY CLEAN-UP WEEK May 18 through 23

Whereas, cleanliness of our City contributes to the health and well-being of the people of the town; and

Whereas, much of the spreading of disease is attributed to the fly and mosquito, and filth and trash provide breeding places for these pests; and

Whereas, the officials of the City of Hamlin recognize the importance of cleanliness and its relation to health and beauty of our city;

Therefore, the cooperation of every man, woman and child is necessary to combat these insects successfully; and

Now, therefore, I, L. H. McBride, mayor of the City of Hamlin, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of May 18 to 23, inclusive, as Annual Clean-Up Week, and respectfully solicit the cooperation of the entire citizenry.

In testimony whereof, I hereto sign my name and affix the seal of office this the 11th day of May, 1959.

L. H. McBRIDE, Mayor,
(Seal) City of Hamlin, Texas.

Among news briefs of interest in the Hamlin community 20 years ago were the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated May 12, 1939:

FIVE YEARS AGO.

The following news briefs are reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated May 7, 1954:

Cotton planting got underway on a big scale in the Hamlin area this week on the heels of fairly good moisture falling. Maize, in the main, already is growing in a nice fashion.

Bands from Hamlin High School and Hamlin Junior High School last week-end were awarded one first division and three second division ratings when they participated in district interscholastic League competition at San Angelo.

Jones County people gave only 64 per cent of their suggested Red Cross goal in the recent fund drive. Only $5,134.91 had been raised toward an $8,000 goal.

Awards were made this week to Andy French, Larry Grimm and Sammy Stubbs as first, second and third prizes in the bird house building contest sponsored by the Hamlin Business & Professional Women's Club.

All three of the Hamlin FFA judging teams that went last week to state contests at College Station placed in the competition.

Hundreds of people of the community attended the first Little League baseball game of the season Tuesday night at the ball park in West Hamlin.

Judges Named for Selecting Top Soil Conservationists

Judges who will select the three top soil conservation districts and the three outstanding farmer-cooperators in the state of Texas have been named by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, sponsor of a national soil conservation awards program, now in its twelfth year, says Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist.

Texas judges for the current program, which ends on April 30, are Harbert S. Byers, supervisor, Upper Sabine Soil Conservation District Celeste, committee chairman; A. T. Vandiver, supervisor, Dalworth Soil Conservation District, Burleson; and T. M. Winn, chairman, Neches-Sabine Soil Conservation District, Tyler.

For purpose of the national contest, Texas is divided into three competing areas or units, with six individuals being named for top honors. Most of the other states comprise a single competing unit.

One representative of the first place district and the man named by the district as the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each of the three Texas areas for the year between May 1, 1958, and April 30, 1959, will be awarded an all-expense vacation trip to Wigwam Guest Resort and Goodyear Farms at Litchfield Park, Arizona, in November or December. Bronze plaques will be awarded to both first and second place districts in each of the three areas.

All contestants should send score sheets to Mr. Byers at Celeste, postmarked not later than May 15.

Winners will be announced by the sponsor in July or August, Barton said.

LOSER ANYWAY.

Red-headed Jerry Detwiler, the eager young college senior, asked our wise Grandfather Hillis how to make his girl marry him.

"Son," said Grandpa, "if she doesn't want to, you can't. If she does want to, there's no way on earth to prevent it."

GIRLISH—The youngest look on the beach this year will be the suit with a hugging-pleated blouse. Styled by Jantzen, this striped cotton suit has wide straps and a crinkled back inset.

U. S. Senator Johnson Illustrates How Budget Will Affect Average Citizen

Unless you're a financial expert, the president's proposed $77,000,000,000 budget does not mean much in terms of everyday living in Texas, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news letter to The Herald. His release continues: We know it represents a lot of money—and taxes—and that is about all.

The Bureau of the Budget has blueprinted how the administration plans to spend this $77,000,000,000 which someone has figured averages about $1,900 for every family in America. If we take $10 of your tax money, here is how the bureau of the budget wants to spend it:

For defense, including military aid to our allies, $5.95.

Interest payment on the public debt, $1.05.

Agriculture, including price supports, 78 cents.

Veterans' services and benefits, 66 cents.

Public welfare, 54 cents.

Such items as housing and transportation subsidies, 29 cents.

International spending, including economic aid to foreign countries, 28 cents.

Conservation and development of natural resource, 22 cents. Expenses of the government, 22 cents.

Contingencies rate one penny. To help finance this spending the administration has proposed several tax increases. This includes raising the federal tax on gasoline used in your automobile from three cents to four and one-half cents a gallon. I think this would be bad, and I do not expect Congress to pass it.

But the Senate will determine what it will do with these administration requests after it gets all the facts. And that will be done at committee hearings where witnesses will be called, figures studied—and the facts put on the public record where they are open to all.

SHAKY FRAMEWORK. "What's my trouble, Doc?" asked the patient. "I'm not sure exactly what's wrong with you," replied the doctor, "but if you were a building you'd be condemned."

THE LAW IS THE LAW—BUT IT'S STILL NOT RIGHT

Evetts Haley Jr. owes the government $506.11 because he harvested 473 bushels of wheat without the government's permission. And he will have to pay or else, because the Supreme Court has just brushed off his argument that he had a right to grow grain to feed his own cattle.

Out in Michigan another farmer still owes the government $2,543 in fines for raising his own chicken feed. (The government already has grabbed his $1,701 bank account). So this farmer, Stanley Yankus, is selling his farm and taking off for Australia, where he hopes he can run a farm his own way.

But that's the law of the land!

This punishment for small farmers is being levied under the same law which permits the government to pay out nearly $1,500,000 to a single corporation farm to prop up the price of the rice it produced. It is the same law which got a California corporation $854,450 in 1957 for growing cotton—and the same corporation another $125,942 for not growing cotton.

It is the same law which in 1957 gave sums ranging from $10,000 to $322,000 each to 2,422 large size farmers who took land out of production.

The farm bloc die-hards who insist on keeping this anti-consumer, anti-taxpayer, anti-farmer law on the books loudly proclaim it is for the benefit of the "little" farmer.

It surely is!

A small farmer in Indiana had his tractor seized because he planted 16 more acres of wheat than the government said he could. A small farmer in Pennsylvania was fined $404 for raising 24 acres of wheat to feed his cattle, and threatened with sale of his farm if he didn't pay. Haley is being socked for raising 43 acres of wheat, and Hankus is leaving the country because the government would not let him run his egg farm the best way he knew how.

It's the law, all right . . . but it's crazy!

Guarantees Freedom

Thoughtful men and women would oppose any tendency in this country to place limitations upon the individual's right to think and express his thoughts regardless of topic discussed. Any effort to curb intellectual freedom in an attempt to perpetuate the present status is an obstacle to progress and freedom.

Even in educational circles sometimes, the course of inquiry and conclusion is restricted, usually to placate financial, economic or religious groups, whose patronage and intelligence dictators would either have continue or begin. The future welfare of humanity is sacrificed for such current favors.

Tolerance of discussion, based upon sincerity of belief, is the foundation alike of both democratic government and the maintenance of human liberty. Without freedom for criticism of both doctrines and deeds, no error can be corrected and no improvement may be looked for when human beings have been totally subjected to mental control and censorship.

Editorial of the Week

UNCLE SAM SUPPORTS US

Look what has happened: In 1939, a $2,000 net income after taxes was worth $1,975; in 1957, that $2,000 income after taxes was worth only $863, a loss to the individual citizen of $1,102. A man who had $2,943 left after taxes out of $3,000 income in 1939 had only $1,265 left out of the same income in 1957—a loss of $1,678. A person lucky enough to have earned $2,000 in 1949 had $18,486 left at the end of that year after payment of taxes; in 1957, after payment of taxes, he had only $6916—a loss of $11,570.

To better illustrate the foregoing result of ever higher taxes and ever higher wages; to buy today what was worth $2,000 in 1939 a man must now earn $4,806. Today, in order to produce the value of $5,000 income in 1939 a person must earn $13,004. This came about because a person with a $2,000 income in 1957 was required to pay additional taxes levied since the 1939 year in the amount of $755, while higher prices due to inflation took $2,051. In the second situation—which reduced the value of a man's earnings amounting to $13,004 to a mere $5,000—came about because additional taxes levied since 1939 amounted to $2,937 and inflation—higher prices—took $5,067. With larger incomes it is the same story: For example, to keep $50,000 in 1957 a person would have to earn $333,377.

With that situation confronting the people of the United States, it isn't surprising that so many have thrown their picks and shovels down with the declaration: "We, too, will let Uncle Sam support us!"—Exchange.

Legislation Introduced in Congress Would Save Tax Bill and Move Wheat

Wheat growers of the Hamlin territory continue to be interested in the wheat stabilization program sponsored by the National Association of Wheat Growers and introduced into the House and Senate as a new farm bill for this session of Congress, that will, if enacted, save the taxpayers of this nation $788,000,000, according to Herb Hughes of Imperial, Nebraska.

braska, chairman of the farm program committee of the NAWG. "It is estimated that the wheat stabilization program will result in a reduction in government costs of $178,000,000," Hughes said, "and a net decrease in CCC stocks of $610,000,000 a year."

"Under the present program an estimated 200,000,000 bushels will be added to Commodity Credit Corporation stocks annually. The wheat stabilization program stops the build-up of CCC stocks, and provides for their reduction by 75,000,000 bushels a year, for reduction in export subsidies of an estimated 20 cents per bushel; and for savings in storage costs on the defense stockpile of approximately six cents per bushel."

The new wheat program, Hughes pointed out, is designed to stabilize future wheat production, reduce the cost to the American public, and switch emphasis in the wheat program to marketing control rather than production control.

"The National Association of Wheat Growers presented this plan for consideration of Congress," Hughes said. "The wheat farmers should get credit for figuring out a workable program for wheat that would save money for the taxpayers, and at the same time take into consideration the transition from high war-time production to peace-time production and stabilize the wheat growing industry."

Aspermont Girl Wins Correct Posture Tilt At District Contests

Scarlet Jo Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kidd of Aspermont, was named Miss Correct Posture of District 7 of the Texas State Chiropractic Association at the annual district posture contest held Saturday evening at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene, according to Dr. William A. Pattillo of Hamlin, secretary of the group.

Eleven girls of this area, including two from Hamlin, were in the contest. The young ladies were judged on the straightness of their spinal x-ray and walking, standing and sitting posture.

Scarlet Jo will represent District 7 in a state contest to be held during the TSCA convention June 11 to 13 at Brownsville. Twelve girls from over the state will compete in this contest, and the winner will go to a national contest to be held at St. Louis, Missouri.

Runners-up in the district contest in Abilene were Kay Spann of San Angelo and Denise Silcox of Abilene. Hamlin entries were Janice Richardson and Rebecca Ferguson.

Directors of Farm Bureau and Wives In Stamford Meet

All Blue Cross applications submitted during this drive will become effective July 1. Clements made the statement that 55,000,000 Americans share your good judgment in choosing Blue Cross hospitalization protection.

The directors voted to enter into this drive wholeheartedly by contacting all Farm Bureau members not having this service and all other interested people and prospects.

Openings in Texas Highway Patrol for Young Men of Area

"Young men interested in becoming enforcement officers for the Texas Department of Public Safety have an excellent opportunity if they can qualify," said Major Wilno E. Speir this week.

There exist now 121 vacancies for patrolmen in the four field services, highway patrol, license and weight, drivers' license, and motor vehicle inspection. The application deadline is May 9, and examinations will be held in Midland, Abilene and San Angelo on May 19, 20 and 21 respectively.

As a result of the necessary processing time element, men between ages of 21 and 35 should submit their applications at once, said Major Speir. He pointed out applications may be obtained at any local DPS office or at the office of the Texas Employment Commission.

EVIDENCE SOUGHT.

Each year the fifth grade teacher had her picture taken with her class at the end of the year. One day she saw one of her students looking through a stack of such pictures. "Are you looking for some of your friends?" the teacher asked. "No," the student answered. "I'm just trying to see which of your classes had aged you the most."

"I take the liberty to speak to you," she admitted, "because you said you loved old ladies."

"I do, I do," was the gallant reply, "and I also like them your age."

First Baptist Women Honor Old Members At Monday Session

It was a happy reunion of old-time church members of the First Baptist Church in Hamlin when the senior members of the church were honored Monday afternoon at a tea sponsored by members of the Woman's Missionary Society in the fellowship hall of the church.

Mmes. Leslie Shelburne and Marvin Carlton sang "Teach Me to Pray." Rev. J. H. Littleton of Eastland, former pastor of the church, reminisced about his call to the Hamlin church 35 years ago. He talked of the problems and joys of the congregation, recalling especially the sacrifices necessary to build the present edifice back in 1927. Bro. Littleton asked that all members of the church present who were active when he was called to the local pastorate to hold up their hands and five people responded.

Mrs. Roy Carmichael presided at the tea table.

Watch Water Level In Cooking Custards

When a recipe calls for baking custard in a water bath, put the custard cups in a deep baking pan and pour water that has just boiled into the pan so that it reaches about one inch from the top of the cups.

Otherwise, the water may boil over when the pan is placed in the oven.

DIGGIN' PROBLEMS.
Collegian (home for summer)— "Well, dad, I brought some books on farming for you to dig into." Dad—"Yeah, and I've bought another 80 acres for you to dig into."

Miss Georgia Moore, Veteran Teacher, Honored at School

Teachers of Hamlin Elementary School sponsored a tea at the Primary School cafeteria Monday afternoon honoring Georgia Moore who is retiring at the end of the present school term after 32 years in the local schools.

Mrs. F. F. Shout presided at the punch table, serving punch and angel food cake. Maggie Seymour welcomed the guests, who were teachers, piano teachers, school nurses and cafeteria employees of the three grade schools; and three ex-teachers, Mae James, Lulan Vaughan and Mrs. O. T. Hennington; and Miss Moore's aunt, Mrs. Martha Mussick.

Mrs. Ethel Allen gave a poem in honor of Miss Moore, and Mrs. Earl Brown presented the gift. She spoke of Miss Moore as a sincere, patient and understanding teacher, and a helpful, cooperative worker—one who has served the Hamlin school system faithfully for a period of 32 years.

Miss Moore will move to her home in Abilene sometime in June.

French Seams Easily Made on Garments

French seams work well when you are making underwear, children's clothes and dresses of transparent materials. To make this type of seam, sew a plain seam on the right side of the garment, at about half the width of the seam allowance.

Trim this seam close to the stitching line and turn the material to the wrong side of the garment. Make a second row of stitches on the seam allowance line. This will be wide enough to cover the raw edges of the first stitching.

Wesleyan Service Guild Honors Charter Member at Meeting

A pledge service featured the opening of a meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Earl Brown.

Following the pledge service, Mrs. H. H. Hines, district secretary of Rule, gave some information concerning the Guild activities for the summer.

Georgia Moore a charter member of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Hamlin First Methodist Church, was presented a life membership pin. She was also presented a gift as a token of appreciation for her loyalty and service in Guild work since 1941.

Chairmen for committees for the next church year were read by Mrs. Brown, the president, as follows: Lulan Vaughan, spiritual life; Mrs. Joe Stephens, Christian social relations; Mrs. L. W. Shivers, missionary education; Mrs. Ira Parker, local church activities.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served to the members and two guests, Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Hudspeth of Rule.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

Austin.—Senators and representatives will have only a brief breather between regular and special sessions of the Legislature. Governor Price Daniel announced that lawmakers would convene again the first of next week.

Big question around the capitol now is how many special sessions will be needed to solve the state's tax problem.

Since the lawmakers failed, during their 120-day regular session, to erase the $85,000,000 deficit and balance the budget for 1960-61 that chore will be No. 1 on the agenda. And most observers think it will take at least two, and maybe more, 30-day special sessions to iron things out.

Only matters specifically offered by the governor may be considered during a special session of the Legislature, and all legislation started during the regular session must start over practically from scratch. Revenue raising proposals will have to be introduced again in the House, heard in committee etc. before they can go to the Senate.

"Open Shop" Teaching.—Any college graduate could teach school in Texas—at least for a year or two—under a House passed bill.

Bill would grant a teacher's certificate good for one year to any bachelor's degree holder, whether he had had teacher training or not. Certificates could be renewed twice. After that, the applicant would have to take 12 semester hours of teacher education.

Maud Isaacks of El Paso, herself a teacher for many years, sponsored the bill. Professional educators were divided on the merits of the plan.

Some said it would increase qualified personnel; others that it would attract to Texas the misfits and ne'er-do-wells from "all the fresh water colleges in the nation."

Plowed Under.—In the final days of a session there usually isn't time to revive a bill that gets pushed aside. Among the bills whose set-backs were interpreted as death for this year are these:

Milk import regulations sponsored by Senator Gardy Hazlewood of Amarillo. House supporters couldn't muster the two-thirds majority to take the bill out of order. Proponents said the restriction on milk brought across the state line was needed for health reasons. Opponents called it a trade barrier that would raise the price of milk.

Broadening the common purchaser oil law by Senator Hazlewood. Senate refused to take up the bill which would require pipelines to provide connections to new fields or transport the oil to market by truck.

Ban on Sunday auto sales by Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas. It passed Senate, but House refused twice to take it up.

Ban on nudist camps by Representative James Turner of Gober. Senate passed, but House refused to call it out of committee. Committee had referred it to the attorney general, who said it would be legal.

Highway Zoning.—Both houses moved quickly toward passage of a bill to protect smaller roads from heavier truck loads.

Governor Daniel asked for such regulation when he signed the bill to increase permitted truck loads from 58,420 to 72,000 pounds.

Proposed bill would allow the State Highway Department to zone state highways and farm roads for lighter truck loads and gives same authority to county Commissioners Courts for county roads.

Insurance Question Marks.—Whether the State Board of Insurance should operate full-time or part-time was an issue expected to carry over into the special session.

House made its preference clear by putting full-time salaries in the House appropriation bill and by passing a bill specifically providing for a full-time board.

Senate version of the appropriation bill provided for what would amount to about one-third time salaries ($5000 a year) for insurance board members. Many senators opposed a full-time board in addition to a full-time commissioner when the department was reorganized two years ago. Since then, they have been angered because the board retained William A. Harrison as commissioner after the Senate had disapproved him.

Since no conference committee was appointed to adjust differences between the two houses' appropriation bills it was obvious the insurance hassle could not be resolved in the regular session.

Tourist Bill Passes.—The much discussed and battered bill to permit the state of Texas to advertise its tourist advantages finally was approved by both houses of the Legislature before adjournment of the regular session.

As passed, the bill puts into effect the constitutional amendment approved by a close margin by the voters at the election last November. It differs in one important respect, however. It does not provide that industries shall match state funds—which was the sales pitch that was used to effect passage of the amendment by Texas voters.

Designated to handle the program are the governor, the chairman of the State Highway Commission and the chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Short Snorts.—House passed a resolution opposing federal regulation of wages to imported farm labor. It was sent to the U. S. Department of Labor and to Congress. Some called it the "get your cotton picking hands off our cotton picking hands" measure.

Senate approved the House passed bill to allow for abolishing the office of county school superintendent in counties not needing one. But it was amended so it applied to only two counties, Young and Parker. . . . Number of persons receiving unemployment payments in Texas is one-third fewer this month than in the recession spring of a year ago. Texas Employment Commission reported 58,410 jobless now compared to 90,946 in May, 1959. . . . It was a rough session for a presiding officer, but House Speaker Waggoner Carr had "his day." Many colleagues paid tribute to Carr on Speaker's Day and Carr and his family received numerous gifts.

SLIPPED UP.
"I say, Bryson, wasn't a feminine member of your family in the theater?"
"Yes."
"What branch?"
"Vaudeville."
"What did she do?"
"Some blighter sewed her in half."
"Your sister, wasn't it?"
"My half sister."

MUST BE A BOUNDER.
Mrs. Hoskinson—"I have found out one thing about that Mrs. Newcombe. Whoever she is she has certainly never moved in good society."
Mr. Hoskinson—"How do you know that?"
Mrs. Hoskinson—"She shakes hands as if she meant it."

Harold Bonners Go to Funeral of Relative

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonner attended the funeral of Mrs. Bonner's brother-in-law, J. H. Chism, in the Hobbs community, west of Roby, last Sunday.

Others from Hamlin attending the final rites were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shields, B. C. May, Mrs. Austin Siburt and Buna Rountree.

New Sorghum Hybrid Adapted to Section Released by Station

Red seeded sorghum hybrid No. RS 608, a new grain sorghum, has been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station according to County Agent Kirby Clayton.

The parents of this hybrid are Martin and Combine 7078, but it has consistently out-yielded its parent by six, 17 and five per cent in several two-year tests over the state of Texas. RS 608 is a medium early grain sorghum hybrid that matures in 90 to 100 days or about the same as its parent, Martin. It is susceptible to loose smut, and it is not recommended in fields where this has been present.

Seed of RS 608 will be available from certified seed growers in Texas for the first time in 1959. Foundation seed for certified seed growers is available from the Foundation Seed Division of Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas.

July 2, 3 and 4 Set as Dates for Stamford Cowboy Reunion

Dates for the 1959 Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford have been set for July 2, 3 and 4, which will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, W. G. Swenson, president, has announced.

The twenty-ninth annual Texas Cowboy Reunion will be planned on a big scale and is expected to attract visitors from neighboring towns and communities as well as far-away places.

Last year at least two persons from foreign countries saw a rodeo for the first time at the Texas Cowboy Reunion. One was from Germany, the other from Japan, but both were at the reunion with people who live in this area and love to attend.

Bernard Buie has been made a director by the Texas Cowboy Reunion, taking the place of Roy Arledge. Other directors are Jack Mills, A. C. Humphrey, K. K. Francis, H. G. Andrews, A. M. G. Swenson and W. G. Swenson.

Slow-Down-Live Safety Campaign Renewed in State

More than 4,000,000 Texas motorists will be asked to "Slow Down and Live" this summer, and those who persistently ignore the request will find that, in many areas, stepped-up law enforcement programs will forcibly remind them of it.

This summer will mark eighth annual "Slow Down and Live" campaign created by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators and conducted throughout United States, Canada and Puerto Rico. The Texas phase of the program will be coordinated by the Texas Safety Association.

Highway speed is the target of the program, which will begin on Memorial Day and continue through Labor Day.

"By speed we don't mean just that speed above the legal limits, although that is a big part of the picture," explained J. O. Musick, Austin, TSA's general manager.

"The program hits at all dangerous or excessive speed. A motorist can be driving within legal limits and still be driving too fast for traffic conditions. For example: 40 miles per hour in a 60-mile zone can be considered too fast in some instances, say during a rain storm or near the scene of an accident. This is only one of many possible instances in which a driver might be driving at a legal rate, but driving excessively fast," Musick said.

Musick pointed out that the only person who has the answer to the speed problem is the individual driver himself.

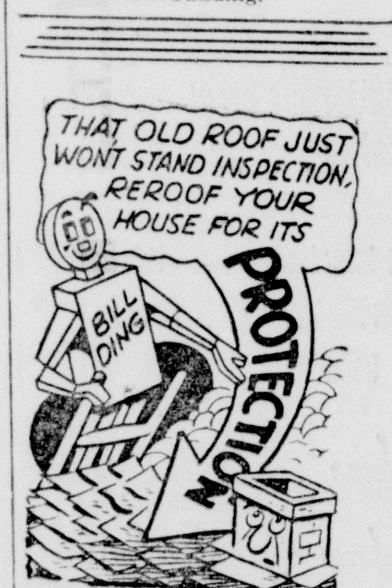

"Through TSA facilities, numerous government agencies, local law enforcement, many Texas businesses and local safety councils, this program will attempt to constantly remind the individual of his responsibility in the slow-down-and-live campaign," he said.

Price Winning Essay on What Hamlin Can Do to Get Industries Reproduced

Essay of Jerry Carlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Carlton, a senior student in Hamlin High School, was declared first place winner in the recent contest sponsored by the Hamlin Board of Community Development. He received a first prize of $25 in cash from the BCD. His entry will be used in the district contest, to be staged in connection with the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce later this month at Amarillo.

Second place winner in the contest was Libby Johnson, and third place winner was Eddie Gabriel.

All seniors at HHS entered the contest as a requirement of the English department under the direction of Mrs. Charles Scott. Twelve essays on "What My Town Can Do to Attract Industry" were submitted to the committee of judges on the local level. Judges were Mrs. Holly Toler, Mrs. Tate May, Max Murrell, Willard Jones and George E. Campbell.

The prize winning essay by young Carlton follows:

Over 100 years ago, our forefathers crossed the Mississippi River and headed West. During the next 50 years the entire West was settled, and since that time industries, both large and small, have been striving to make better improved products to sell to the American people.

Chemical scientists have produced thousands of new and useful articles for you and me. No longer is man satisfied to accept what nature has given us in the form in which we find it. Man remakes nature's materials to suit himself. Chemistry takes substances apart. It rearranges them to make new substances. Science is working with American industry to develop better products for all of us. In every large factory you will find a group of men working out new ways of doing things.

Each year there are countless new factories set up in America. Each of these many industries must decide on a city or town to use as a factory site. This decision is based mainly on what each contending town has to offer this particular industry. And each city or town should strive to get all industry possible to assure them of further growth and development.

To a large extent the enthusiasm with which a town tries to get industry determines whether or not its efforts will be successful. To achieve this enthusiasm a town must have an "all out" community effort. In order to get this effort it should be pointed out to the individual citizens the many benefits industry can bring.

An industry in your town means more employment; therefore, new employment is created. It means more people and a larger spendable income for your town. It will mean better schools and better community service. It will increase business activity.

One hundred manufacturing employees in your community will mean approximately 1297 more people, 100 more homes, and 52 more school children. It would mean $590,000 more personal income, and added $300,000 in bank deposits, and 108 more registered passenger cars. There would be 180 more workers employed. It would mean about four more retail establishments in our town, and it would add about $360,000 in retail sales each year.

This $360,000 would be divided as follows: Grocery stores, $70,000; eating establishments, $30,000; department stores, $45,000; clothing stores, $25,000; automobile houses, $50,000; gas stations,

GOODWILL WORKER MEETS PRESIDENT—William H. Junker, 34, of Dallas, the "Goodwill Worker of the Fear," talks with President Eisenhower during a visit to the White House in Washington, D. C. In background are Richard Nelson of San Diego, California, Goodwill president; and Percy J. Trevethan (right), executive vice president of Goodwill.

There is no reason why a good percentage of these industries should not bring these benefits to smaller towns. A small town has plenty of room to "set up shop" in, while our cities are often crowded. Taxes in smaller towns invariably are lower. Small towns usually have better environments in which to rear children. They have a smaller enrollment in the schools, and usually more employment on churches than cities. Also, an industry can get federal loans by locating in a town with a population under 25,000.

What steps should be taken to draw industry to our town? First, a town meeting should be called. With the people can be informed of what industry can do for them. We should select a special committee from the Board of Community Development whose duty is to promote industry for Hamlin. We should contact other small towns where industries have been located and find out what they offered.

The people of Hamlin should find out what Hamlin has to offer industry, and, if this is not enough, we should improve. Any industry has certain things which they require before locating in a small town.

Most of all, an industry will want sufficient raw materials. Hamlin can offer sufficient oil, cotton and grain to suit almost any industry's needs. Texas is a leading state in the nation in cotton production, and Jones County is one of the leading counties in Texas. Therefore, Hamlin has a better chance for an industry which is connected with cotton than any other type of industry.

A good industry will want a friendly community, a town with a friendly attitude toward industry. They want a progressive town. Our town needs some sort of a cleaning program, as any prospective industry would definitely want a clean town.

One thing in Hamlin's favor would be the fact that we can offer adequate natural gas and electricity at a moderate cost. They would want abundant water. Hamlin's water supply is not exactly abundant, but it is adequate.

Any industry wants good transportation. There are seven paved highways leading into Hamlin. These provide for adequate trucking and bus lines. Our airport could stand improvement.

For an industry to move to Hamlin would call for a new housing development. With a larger demand for smaller homes perhaps could be offered a smaller price than before. We also need a place to house a factory. We should survey all land where we might locate an industry, and make sure it is suitable. The town could help the industry build its new factory.

Hamlin can also offer good recreational and cultural facilities. We have a nice ball park, swimming pool and organized summer baseball. We also have good churches and schools. We have very active Rotary and Lions Clubs and several affiliated women's clubs.

Hamlin's downtown isn't the most modern in the state, but it is far from rundown. We do need a place for young people to go at night. We have a public library which is being enlarged. We are in need of a nice motel in Hamlin. All of these things help attract industry.

Another important thing to consider when situating an industry is the town's labor supply. We should print questionnaires sending one to each available worker in the immediate area, asking him to fill it out if interested in working in a factory.

After gathering all the information about the town, the committee should print a booklet telling in detail about the town's raw materials, taxes, labor supply, power, housing, transportation, water, and cultural and recreational facilities. They should set up billboards advertising the town in various places. This booklet should be sent to prospective industries, and also, keeping in touch with them by letter at least once a month. When we find one who is genuinely interested in our town send some capable representatives to that industry's main office for a personal interview.

A garment factory of some type might find Hamlin a good location. Already, we have some small industries here connected with cotton. This is a decided asset in bidding for other industries connected with cotton. Like industries attract. An industry which uses coal would naturally locate near coal mines. Likewise, an industry which utilizes cotton would find a town with cotton gins, cotton compresses and other cotton-connected businesses attractive.

A cottonseed refinery converting cottonseed to margarine and cooking oils would find Hamlin a good location. Margarine is made by mixing milk and salt with vegetable fats and oils obtained from cottonseed. If a margarine factory were to come to Hamlin it would promote dairy farming, thus bringing in another industry. Hamlin would also be a good location for a fertilizer business which also is connected with the cotton industry.

There are any numbers of goods made from cotton, any of which could set up factories here. Among these goods are thread, mattresses, tire casings, insulators, twine, automobile upholsteries, candles and phonograph records. Any of these would find Hamlin an attractive place to start a factory. Hamlin would be a good location for a slaughter-house with two well known railroads here. This would also be a good place to have an agricultural experimental station.

To get an industry in Hamlin we would have to offer something extra. We could let them start tax-free. Or we could give them free land to build on. We could offer them loans on which to start. Another good thing in our favor is our good banking system.

If none of this brought industry to Hamlin, we might start one of those things on our own as a co-operative. If it were successful, in all probability some other industry would soon move in.

Above all, have patience. It may take years to attract an industry to our town. But when we do secure one, we will be well rewarded for our efforts.

County Agent Gives Pointers on Control of Weeds in Home Lawn

For the control of weeds in lawns and wild rye and rescue grass in lawns, County Agent Kirby Clayton makes the following recommendations:

1. Wild rye or rescue grass in lawns: Use seven tablespoons of endothal plus two to three tablespoons of soap detergent in one gallon of water as a spray on foliage.

2. For most winter weeds: Two cups of ammonium nitrate in one gallon of water. Broadcast at the rate of four gallons solution per 1,000 square feet of area.

3. Most broadleaf winter weeds such as chickweed and clovers: Two tablespoons 2-4-D and two tablespoons 2-4-5-T mixed in one gallon of water and thoroughly cover foliage with this solution. It may be necessary to repeat the application two or three times before a good kill is achieved.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Climb

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending May 2, 1959, were 25,186 compared with 21,376 for the same week a year ago, reflecting a continuing climb from the 1958 figures. Cars received from connections totaled 13,017 compared with 10,492 for the same week a year ago.

Total cars moved were 38,203 compared with 31,868 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,291 cars in the preceding week this year.

4. Crab grass control in Bermuda lawns: Potassium cyanate, sodium arsenite or phenyl mercuric acetate used according to directions on the container.

Livery Stable Days

A new Naylor Book was released May 15. "Livery Stable Days" is an authentic historical account of the days when the Livery Stable was one of the hubs of social activity in practically every American community. The book makes mention of scenes in Hamlin.

The arrival of the automobile erased the livery stable from the picture, but here is the account of those days written by a man who owned and operated these establishments in Texas.

Upton Barnard, author of "Jake Bell, Range Rider," also published by The Naylor Company, draws on personal experience, intensive research and real writing ability to bring you this piece of Americana.

Coach Chuck Moser Speaks at Kick-Off Dinner of Methodists

A kick-off dinner for the every-member canvas in the budget educational campaign of the First Methodist Church was enjoyed by a large crowd of church leaders Monday evening in the fellowship hall of the church.

Phil Smith directed a sing-song, and Eddie Gabriel and Ann Rich sang a medley of old songs.

L. H. McBride, campaign chairman, was in charge of the meeting. "Get Murrell spoke on "What It Means to Give to the Church."

Pastor Edmund W. Robb presented Audine High School Coach Chuck Moser as the main speaker of the evening. He talked on "How to Make a Success of the Campaign." He said: "We first have to have a goal: have enthusiasm; work hard; and be humble. Someone has to set an example, as everything we do, we imitate someone, and everyone must be given an opportunity in this individual solicitation."

Air Base Man Says Armed Might Is Power for Peace

"Peace is our profession" was stressed as the motto of the armed forces of America today by Lieutenant Colonel George P. Woods, commander in charge of materials at Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house. His address was part of the observance by the civic group of Armed Forces Day which is Saturday of this week.

Colonel Woods pointed out that Armed Forces Day was adopted in 1956 by all the armed forces in lieu of the previous observance of Navy Day, Army Day, Marines Day and Air Forces Day, to give emphasis to the combined military forces of the country.

The speaker, who is making a career of his military service, declared that too many people think of armed force as forbidding war, but said that is the last resort of our nation's arming. Rather, it is to preserve the peace by being prepared to meet aggression by any enemy around the globe. He pointed to the great strength of the Air Force particularly, with its modern planes, missiles, radar and communications.

The United States has an investment of $400,000,000 at Dyess Air Force Base, he said, where some 6,400 men are based.

Colonel Woods invited people of the Hamlin area to visit the base any time Saturday, when parades, personnel and equipment will be featured in the all-day observance.

President-Elect Donley Williams was in the chair in the absence of Acting President B. V. Newberry.

Besides the speaker, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon included C. C. Sheffield of Rotan, C. D. Davis of Dallas and Stan Green of Abilene.

Hamlin Students at North Texas State Do Practice Teaching

Public schools in 35 Texas cities are cooperating with North Texas State College at Denton this semester in the training of prospective teachers.

The NTSC school of education has placed more than 450 college students in these cities as student teachers. Most of them are assigned to schools in Denton, Dallas and Tarrant Counties.

In towns outside of Denton County, the student teachers spend full time in the school for nine weeks. They teach a one-half day schedule for a full semester in most of the Denton area schools.

Under the guidance of the classroom teacher and school principal, the students assist in planning and carrying out the regular instruction program as part of their work toward earning teaching certificates.

Those enrolled in the program include Reba Roland and Mrs. Lusara Dean Cowan of Hamlin. Miss Roland, daughter of O. D. Roland, 152 North Central, is a senior business education major. She is teaching business at the Lewisville High School.

A senior education major, Mrs. Cowan is the daughter of Mrs. Faye Dean of Hamlin. She is teaching at the Robert E. Lee Elementary School in Denton.

"Nope," said Zeke, "but you do."
